KITCHEN & BATHROOM TRENDS

We invite you to explore six of the latest design trends we're most enthusiastic about, from classic black to playful patterns. See examples in both kitchen and bathroom settings and find the style that's best for you and your home.

PALE // 6

This is a trend we love for its soft approachability. Pale colors have a versatility that designers continue to explore – wispy transparent tulle, organic adobe homes, shimmering washed metallics – each pushes pale beauty in a new direction.

WHITE // 12

Designers today choose white as the defining color for traditional as well as ultra modern spaces. Exceptionally versatile, it runs the gamut from futuristic and otherworldly to soft and cozy. As always, white remains a daringly elegant choice.

NOIR // 22

Simply put, black captivates. From sumptuous obsidian surfaces to tone-on-tone wallcoverings, black infuses spaces with a powerful, distinctive personality. Whether making a cameo or playing the lead, black inevitably steals the show.

PATTERN // 28

Pattern has always had a place in home decor, but a willingness to combine motifs like floral and geometric or to play with scale is a new twist on a familiar theme. Prim or playful. Small or supersized. Pattern gives you wide rein to explore.

SMOKY // 36

A sultry mix of rich flavor and subtle spice, this moody color palette is filled with champagne golds, sun-kissed caramels and cherry mochas. At once warm and earthy, smoky celebrates nature's textures and tones across a wide mix of materials.

COLOR // 44

Color trends tell us about ourselves. What we value and how we're feeling collectively shows up in the colors we're drawn to for our clothes, our homes and our gadgets. It's a collective agreement that certain hues are worthy of permeating our lives.

COPPER COTTAGE

Kim Lewis, best known as the lead designer behind ABC's Extreme Makeover: Home Edition, has recently designed tiny homes for FYI's Tiny House Nation.

TREND // PALE

Focusing her talents for tiny house design on the kitchen, Kim Lewis created this light-infused cottage space for homeowners who want to scale back and reconnect with nature. Cool hues drawn from the natural world bring the outdoors in and create a serene, surprisingly hardworking kitchen.

EMPIRE ELEGANCE

TREND // WHITE

Empire Elegance features the high ceilings and detailed wainscoting characteristic of a traditional townhouse. Luxury materials add to the grandeur, while mixed metals and clean shapes give the room twenty-first century appeal.

WHAT'S TRENDING

Mixed metals are a common theme today. Here Vibrant® Titanium faucets complement the marble's gray tones, and a gold chandelier and sconces draw honey hues out of the wood.

The refined modern design of Vox® Rectangle sinks pairs perfectly with the sleek angles of Composed™ faucets.

HOME TOUR PALM SPRINGS CONNECTED

TREND // WHITE

Renovated by Palm Springs designers Jackie Thomas and DeeAnn McCoy of Thomboy Properties, this home stays true to its midcentury modern roots while introducing advanced technologies and features. Bordering a courtyard pool and fire pit, this cool desert oasis is brimming with sensory experiences.

 To see more of this home, visit ideas.KOHLER.com/PalmSpringsHouse

DeeAnn McCoy and Jackie Thomas, founders of Thomboy Properties, make a living defying expectations. The company's philosophy is simple: respect the beauty and simplicity of design from the past and reimagine it for the way people live today.

Q&A

WITH JACKIE THOMAS + DEEANN MCCOY OF THOMBOY PROPERTIES

Why did you choose the Sierra Way house?

You might say the house chose us. We received a call from a friend of the homeowner inquiring whether or not we would be interested in purchasing the property. We were very familiar with the house as it is on one of the nicest streets in the neighborhood and in a dilapidated state; it was a standout for all the wrong reasons. Seeing the potential, how could we say no?

Is incorporating technology into the bathroom a trend you're seeing more of?

We are keenly aware that we live in a very wired world that makes escape harder and harder, so we decided that we would take the best of technology to create the ultimate sensory experience. The KOHLER® integrated multi-sensory shower system allows the user to pre-set their desired settings and listen to beautiful music while in the shower. Whether you are starting or ending your day or going out on the town, you can create an experience in the bathroom that sets the tone for the rest of the day or evening.

Do you think cleansing toilets have a part to play in health and wellness today?

None of us are getting any younger, and we are all looking for ways to maximize our health and well-being. You may not equate toilets with a luxury experience but that's exactly what Veil® provides: a sense of comfort, ease and simple indulgence at your fingertips. Toilets with cleansing functionality are just one more way for us to enhance what is already a very personal experience.

Do you have a general bathroom design tip for homeowners?

It is paramount to understand what your immediate needs are as well as your long-term goals before you embark on a renovation. In our case we know that many people are buying second homes that they plan to retire to some day, so we are cognizant of making certain we create showers that are easily accessible (curbless or slight step downs for ease of use). We also want to create something that is clean, classic and timeless so it can age with us.

Designing Your Dream Shower

with KOHLER Design Consultant Keith Rothstein

We recently sat down with KOHLER design consultant Keith Rothstein to share some of the topics he typically addresses with clients during a shower design consultation.

Here’s what he had to say.

What can someone expect from a design consultation?

We encourage people to come in at any point in the process. So, even if you’re just beginning to think about a new shower, come in. We can show you what’s possible. I like to start by going over your wish list – what’s the dream? How do you want to feel in the shower? How do you want it to look? We can take you from inspiration through floor plan considerations to choosing products.

What shower experiences should people be thinking about?

Technology has opened the door to a whole new world of experiences in the shower. Often people don’t realize that it’s possible to have not only water but also music, steam and lighting all working together in the shower. It’s really like having a spa treatment at home.

And spray innovations have introduced such a wide range of water delivery options that people can choose how they want to feel – energized or relaxed – and design experiences to achieve those sensations. I help clients find the best fit.

How do you help people choose a style?

We talk about their style preferences in other areas to help us zero in on a general area of modern or traditional. From there, we look at the products themselves so clients can touch and see the different details up close. I go into color palette preferences as well, so we can choose finishes that makes sense in the overall space.

Are there any shower products you recommend right now?

For anyone who wants the beauty of tile or stone without the cost and difficulty, I highly recommend Choreograph® shower walls. People love the way it looks, being able to customize storage, and not having to deal with grout.

Keith Rothstein is a KOHLER® Signature store senior project Consultant in Edina, Minnesota. His design background includes over 15 years in plumbing and tile expertise.

MARINE MODERN

TREND // COLOR

Inspired by a California casual vibe, designer Kerrie Kelly chose a navy palette to create this approachable kitchen. Ready to be dressed up or down, navy acts as a neutral here, accessorized with a sophisticated mix of chrome and bronze metals.

What are some tips for choosing a sink and faucet that pair well together?

When using a classic sink style, like a farmhouse or under mounted-design, we can be fashion-forward with our faucet choice. The Beckon® faucet has high-functionality, a perfect reach for the single-basin Strive® sink. I love that we didn't use the expected white farmhouse sink or a monochromatic kitchen palette. In the spirit of mixing metals, we went with stainless steel for an edgy, contemporary feel.

Why did you choose to mix metals in this space?

When working with our homeowners, we find that giving them permission to mix metals opens an entirely new avenue to design. Mixed metals offers a high-fashion yet unbuttoned vibe feel to the space. We kept the Albedo countertops to the perimeter of our design to introduce a celebratory tone to the bar and extended seating area.

What are some benefits to open shelving in the kitchen?

Open shelving allows you to have everything you use most often within arm's reach. This concept also lets you display your favorite things and forces you to keep a level of organization in such a high-traffic space.

Kitchens are such task-oriented spaces; what are the tricks for creating a super-functional kitchen?

A super-functional kitchen needs multiple counter heights, forgiving and durable surfaces and finishes, and long runs of countertop to allow more people to be involved in food prep, organization and the myriad of functions kitchens require.

Do you have a general design tip for homeowners?

Create a space that's livable so all can be a part of enjoying it.

1 Introduce golden-hued accents to bring a light-hearted shimmer to your space.

2 Put a little distance between contrasting finishes to keep the room cohesive and not chaotic.

3 Balance the heft of solid metalwork with delicate and slender pieces.

5 Spice up even standard finishes, like polished chrome, by adding even one accent finish.

4 If you blend polished and brushed metals, use the brushed finishes to ground the room.
